THE FULBRIGHT ARTISTS TALKS SERIES
November 1 and 2, 2016, 6-8 p.m. at
Circuits & Currents-Project Space of the Athens School of Fine Arts

The Fulbright Foundation in Greece, in collaboration with the Careers Office of the Athens School of Fine Arts, invites alumni from the Fulbright Artists Programs to Circuits & Currents-Project Space of the Athens School of Fine Arts (Notara 13 & Tositsa Streets), for a short presentation of their work and a roundtable discussion on their U.S. experience as a Fulbright grantee.

Purpose of the meeting is to clarify to potential candidates - students and alumni of the Athens School of Fine Arts – concepts such as ‘affiliation’ and ‘exchange’ through personal accounts. Artists will talk about their host institutions, the importance of studying abroad, lessons learned from the U.S. - professionally, technically, socially, etc. -, academic and/or professional benefits, and collaborations and projects that flowed from their U.S. stay.

After a brief introduction to the Fulbright scholarship program for artists (including graduate and doctoral students, artists, and artist residency) by Greek Program Coordinator, Els Siakos Hanappe, the stage will be given to the Fulbright alumni artists:

Tuesday, November 1, 2016: Visual Arts

Nikolas Ventourakis
Antonis Theodoridis
Elias Kafouros
Giorgos Tzinoudis
Georgia Sagri

Wednesday, November 2, 2016: Performing Arts

Anna Pagkalou
Panagiotis Terzakis
Ioli Andreadi
Erifili Giannakopoulou
Pygmalion Karatzas

The audience is welcome to interact with the speakers during the discussion rounds.

Moderator:

Els Siakos Hanappe, Fulbright Foundation

Special Guests:

Jenny Marketou, artist (U.S./Greece)
David Whelan, artist, Fulbright Scholar to the Athens School of Fine Arts
