Arch Building 21.08 - 02.09

Join Constructlab to collaboratively build a socio-circular gate to technology. Above the once busy tunnels of a venturesome mining enterprise, we want to revive a courageous spirit and erect a common Arch from a newly invented material.

We are looking for 30 enthusiastic participants to work, build and live together in a structure that we call our social and experimental laboratory. This is an opportunity to inhabit a construction site with an open door to public space, to acquire practical and unexpected knowledge and to make surprising acquaintances.

For more info and subscription fees mail to thearch@constructlab.net.
